We believe and work to the ethos that the quality of our food starts in the field, not in the box in a warehouse. We go right to the source and ensure the quality of each product is looked after throughout the entire process – so by the time we select something from our warehouse, put a good chef around it and cook the product, the delivery is the best it can be.

"After working with Fabulous Fan Fayre at Watford FC for many years, I have served many happy couples and congratulated them in to their next big adventure by creating that very special first meal as a married couple. I love being able to put that final touch on a plate and amaze the guests through a culinary experience that stays with them for years to come."

Executive Head Chef

A wedding day is not like any other day or occasion you will ever attend. A wedding is an experience, journey and a dream that comes to life all in one day. Every wedding is unique and every dream looks different. When it comes to planning the most special day of your life and creating memories of a lifetime no wish is too small and no vision too big. We will work with you every step of the way to make sure even the smallest detail gets the biggest attention.

We have worked with many happy couples over the years and understand the importance of creating memories and moments to cherish for years to come.”
